

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 6, 2019

PULL UP A CHAIR MONEY

Scripture Reading Mark 10:17–27

FROM THE SERVICE

Though it was not related to our sermon topic on money, we took some time to played a video and discuss its importance as it relates to our sermon series and our values as a church as a whole.

On September 6, 2018, off-duty police officer Amber Guyger entered Botham Jean's apartment, mistaking it as her own. Believing him to be an intruder, Guyger fatally shot Jean. On Tuesday, October 1, 2019, Amber Guyger was found guilty for the murder of Botham Jean. On Wednesday, she was sentenced to ten years in prison. Botham Jean's 18-year-old brother, Brandt Jean, gave the victim impact statement, which can be viewed here.

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES FOR THIS SERIES

Earlier this year, Oak Hillian Michael Zacharia, Co-Director of Faith-Based Diplomacy Project and adjunct professor at Pepperdine University Law School, gave a talk on difficult conversations. This great resource has been made available. View his talk here. Access the worksheets for the talk here.

ADDITIONAL READING

*A Fellowship of Differents*, Scot McKnight

*Kingdom Conspiracy*, Scot McKnight

*The Church of Us Versus Them*, David Fitch

Glittering Vices, Rebeccas Konyndyk DeYoung

Christians in the Age of Outrage, Ed Stetzer

Every Step An Arrival, Eugene Peterson

Uncommon Decency, Richard Mouw